📘 /theoldgrammarschool

Situated in the heart of Truro, this iconic building once provided a place of education for some of Cornwall's most famous innovators - Sir Humphrey Davy, 1st Baronet (Cornish chemist and innovator), Samuel Foote (dramatist, actor and theatre manager), Jonathan Hornblower (British pioneer of steam power), Admiral Edward Pellew, 1st Viscount Exmouth, and Lieutenant General Hussey Vivian, 1st Baron Vivian, Celia's ancestor, to name but a few!

We pride ourselves on delivering locally sourced exceptional food, wine and cocktails.

We use North Coast Wine Company for all our wine and spirit supplies - supporting local business is hugely important to us and the team here at The Old Grammar School. Providing you with the highest quality ingredients you won't find on the high street and ensuring we deliver a top class experience.

Let us know what you thought of your visit on Facebook or TripAdvisor - we look forward to seeing you again soon.
